LICENSE TO THRILL

An early morning Jet Ski safari from GoldenEye in Oracabessa Bay past hidden coves and deserted beaches including Dr. No's lair at Crab Key and Dunn's River where James and Quarrel hid from Dr. No's machine, to the falls at Laughing Waters where Ursula Andress and her white bikini famously emerged from the surf. Return to GoldenEye, where author Ian Fleming penned all 14 of the James Bond novels, for a decadent luncheon and a martini-making session (shaken not stirred, of course).

Enjoy an idle afternoon of snorkeling, kayaking, and paddle-boarding, and meet Ramsey Dacosta, Ian Fleming's former gardener, to hear tantalizing anecdotes from back in the day. Then take a short scenic drive to sip Blackwell Rum cocktails from atop the views at Firefly, the playwright Noel Coward's (good friend of Ian Fleming's) hilltop retreat, as the sun fades into twilight.

ONE LOVE RASTAFARI

Recognized by dreadlocked hair, intense musical expression, and the smoking of Cannabis as a religious sacrament, Rastafari is a way of life not confined to any standard definition. It is an expression of 'livity', the energy or life force that flows through all living things, and was inspired by the conscientiousness of Haile Selassie I, Emperor of Ethiopia from 1930–1979. On this journey you will view the national exhibit to learn the history, visit an orthodox spiritual house (place of worship for many Reggae music icons), eat an authentic Ital lunch and tour the Bob Marley Museum, home of the world's most recognizable Rastaman.

THE PORT ANTONIO EXPERIENCE

Take a full-day adventure off the beaten track to the town of Port Antonio. Spectacular natural beauty, an abundance of rainforests, untouched landscapes with fewer tourists, this part of the island is steeped in lush green vegetation and old world sensibilities. Visit the famous Blue Lagoon; go rafting on the Rio Grande; body surf at Frenchman's Cove; browse through Musgrave Market; savor grilled meats at Boston Bay, the original home of Jerk, a style of cooking native to Jamaica; and have a drink at the local marina. You'll instantly understand why the actor Errol Flynn famously described Port Antonio as "more beautiful than any woman I have ever seen". Includes roadside stops to eat fresh fruits and drink jelly coconut on the trip over.

THE BLUE MOUNTAIN COFFEE TRAIL

Follow an old footpath up the hill between two historic coffee properties, from Wallenford Coffee Works —now Heritage Garden of Cold Spring— to the Clifton Mount Coffee Estate.

The trail gently follows the contours of the mountain, gradually ascending 1000 feet, and is a lovely 1-hour nature walk.

The Clifton Mount property is one of the oldest and finest Blue Mountain Coffee Estates in Jamaica and is the also single largest private exporter of Jamaica Blue Mountain Coffee.

Hear the fascinating history of Clifton Mount and walk the coffee farm, which also grows flowers commercially. Afterwards, relax in the garden, surrounded by spectacular views, a delicious picnic lunch, and a cup of the world's most prized coffee.

On the drive home, pass through the historic 19th century army base Newcastle, today used by the Jamaica Defense Force as a rest station and training camp.

12 DAYS IN JAMAICA

As any Jamaican will tell you, the ultimate experiences on island are best lived through a road trip, and this one can be completely tailored to encompass as much or as little as you'd like to do.

Arriving in Montego Bay in the Northwest, the excursion begins with a trip to the Western-most tip of Jamaica and The Caves Resort, right next to the lighthouse in Negril.

Enjoy amazing sunsets, some of the best swimming in the world, the incredible Cave Dining experience, and Negril's well-known laid-back beach town vibe. Then head for Treasure Beach on the South Coast in St. Elizabeth, the basket parish of Jamaica, where 80% of the island's agricultural produce is grown; on the way over you'll stop in at the cascading YS Falls to walk the gardens and go for a swim.

Stroll the unspoiled black-sand beaches, talk to the local fishermen, visit the dizzying heights of Lover's Leap and take a boat ride out to enjoy the Pelican Bar, a virtual wonder on stilts built on a reef in the middle of the ocean.

Then it's off to Strawberry Hill and the famous Blue Mountains of the East, passing through Kingston for a few hours to tour the city. From your hillside cottage 3000ft above sea level, you'll have one of the best views on the island, be sipping what is arguably the finest coffee in the world, and taking easy hikes through mountain villages to view flora and fauna not found anywhere else on earth.

From here, make your way over the mountain to the untouched landscapes of Port Antonio in the Northeast, where there are fewer tourists and an abundance of rainforests. Go river rafting on the Rio Grande, eat at the famous Boston Jerk, loll about on beautiful white sand beaches, and visit the spectacular Sommerset Falls.

You'd never want to leave, except it only gets better; just an hour and a half away on the Northeastern coast, the incomparable GoldenEye awaits.

Enjoy paddle boarding, kayaking, snorkeling, or simply swimming around the lagoon and chilling out on the beach. Take a Jet Ski or speedboat tour to Dunn's River Falls, rejuvenate at the Fieldspa, and relax with cocktails and canapés from atop the views at Firefly, the playwright Noel Coward's former hilltop retreat.

It's almost time to go home, but the best is yet to come: Island Outpost's 2,500 acre sustainable farming preserve, Pantrepant, sits in-land at the midway point between GoldenEye and the Montego Bay Airport, and is the perfect cool-down spot before heading back to reality.

The vast farmland views, simple country living, roaming livestock, limestone caves and a historical petroglyph, river swimming, freshly harvested home-cooked cuisine and access to horseback riding, all combine to make this a unique experience not to be found anywhere else.

When it is finally time to say goodbye, the Montego Bay airport is only a 45-minute drive away.
